CALL FOR ENTRIES, SANS SOUCI FESTIVAL OF DANCE CINEMA

Boulder, Colorado, USA, January 19, 2007 - The Sans Souci Festival of Dance Cinema announces its call for entries with deadlines on February 16 and March 9, 2007.

Literally meaning “no worries” in French, and with reasonable entry fees of $20 and $35 for the early and final deadlines respectively, Sans Souci hopes to attract both emerging and established dance-video and dance-film artists.

The Fourth Annual Sans Souci Festival will be held in Boulder, Colorado, USA on Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7, 2007, in the performance space at the Boulder Museum of Contemporary Art (BMoCA), 1750 13th Street.

The Third Annual Sans Souci Festival at BMoCA in June 2006 featured work by over two dozen artists. Subsequently, in October, selected pieces were shown in the Silvestre Revueltas Theater, Universidad Michoacana, Morelia, Mexico.

Internationally recognized choreographer and videographer Nancy Spanier says, “With its expansive definition of dance and its appreciation for highly experimental and interdisciplinary forms, Sans Souci has the potential to grow into an important festival.” Dance filmmaker and Artistic Co-Director Ana Baer of Los Angeles, CA, says, “Sans Souci is a festival meant to encourage new work, both experimental and traditional, and to support video dance makers everywhere. I am very proud to have my work shown in this forum.”

The Sans Souci Festival of Dance Cinema is supported by the Boulder Museum of Contemporary Art and the Dance Department of University of Colorado at Boulder.

More information and a downloadable entry form are available at <http://www.sanssoucifest.org/>.
